After the regular communication of Granite lodge, No. 35, F. and A. M., this evening, the February committee of the Blue lodge will contribute one of the periodic entertainments that have helped to enliven Masonic doings this winter. Thus far the committee has managed successfully to keep its plans secret, but an interesting entertainment is assured and a substantial luncheon will be served thereafter.

Goddard seminary's galaxy of big league stars, which includes Lawton Witt, recently signed with the Philadelphia Americans, Claude Hastings, the Dorchester boy who is to go with Carri-gan's Red Sox in the spring, and Bob Smith, now and then of the National league, is to be augmented by the appearance of Bernard J. Lee in the school constellation. "Cap." Lee, as he was known in the days when he was assisting in the manufacture of diamond history on the Barre hilltop, is to accompany the Boston Nationals to Miami, Fla., on their spring training trip. Lee is a Vermont boy, hailing from Irasburg, whence he came to Goddard in the autumn of 1906. He was graduated in 1910 and played later with the Barre A. C., going from this city to Tufts college. Lee was captain of the Tufts team in 1914 and again in 1915, lead the batsmen at Medford and was the leading batsman among the third sackers of college teams last year.

Roomy conveyances from three liveries and a number of single teams were required to transport the members of the Barre A. C. and their guests to the Williams-town on their annual sleighride last evening. Nearly 100 people participated in the outing, the parties starting from the city around 7 o'clock amid the din of much horn tooting and the ringing of dinner bells. At Williamstown covers were laid for 105 people in the grange hall and an excellent supper was served by a local organization. Afterward there was a program of dance numbers with card playing for those who did not care to dance. The B. A. C. orchestra, composed of younger musicians who have been rehearsing throughout the winter, played for the dancing after contributing several overtures during the supper hour. A lengthy committee headed by Francis Cleary had charge of the outing and barges were supplied by the Johnston & Gamble, Papin Bros., and Jones & Nye liveries.

A new Century dough mixer is being installed in the City bakery. The machine is of the most up-to-date model with all gears covered and many other modern improvements. A four-horse-power electric motor furnishes power for its operation.

At the mid-week worship in the First Baptist church last evening, it was expected that a communication from Rev. Bert J. Leigh of Oswego, N. Y., who has been discussed as a candidate for the local pastorate, would be available for consideration, but a definite answer from the Oswego man has not been received.

Barre granite, the quarries and the cutting plants, are effectively advertised in a new issue of the monument booklet which A. M. Troup, the photographer, has issued. One-half the space in the booklet is given over to half-tones of memorials that have been cut out of Barre granite, while prominent manufacturing and quarrying concerns use the remaining half for advertising purposes. Three thousand copies of the brochure were mailed from the local postoffice to-day to all parts of the United States, to Europe and to the far East.

To-night at the Knights of Columbus hall in the Scampini block, the Italian Pleasure club will hold its 7th annual banquet and dance. Invitations to the affair were issued early in the week and the committee in charge has a surprise in store for the guests, inasmuch as the nature of an entertainment that is listed as vaudeville on the programs has not been divulged. Guests from Quincy, Mass., Milford and Concord, N. H., are expected to be present.

Sec. Fred W. Sutor of the quarry-workers' international association has returned from a trip to Rutland and Danby in the interests of the state branch of the A. F. of L. With other officers of the state branch, its president, Mr. Sutor, succeeded in effecting an organization of 82 laboring men connected in one way and another with the foundry, scale and machine shops in Rutland. He was assisted by Organizer Scheller of the machinists' union, Nelson A. Malmgren, treasurer of the state branch, and James J. Reedy, who is one of the vice presidents of the same organization. Mr. Sutor reports that the efforts of marble workers in Danby to secure shorter hours and a better wage have proven successful already. The state branch of the A. F. of L. has organized what is to be known as to forward movement of the purpose of carrying trade unionism into quarters where it is unknown at the present time.

Regular communication of Granite lodge, No. 35, F. and A. M., Friday evening at 7 o'clock. Dismissal of business. Refreshments and entertainment at close. E. M. White, W. M.

A regular meeting of Green Mountain council, No. 736, R. A., will be held Friday, Feb. 18, at 7:30 p. m., in K. of P. hall. Every member is urged to be present, as a musical program will be given after the meeting.

The statement in yesterday's Times about the transportation of tan bark from Orange and other hill towns into Barre for the first time this season calls for a response from James Hill & Son of South Barre that they have already shipped two carloads of tan bark this season and are now engaged in loading a third car.

Charles H. Northrop of Merchant street is slowly recovering from a relapse which he suffered a fortnight ago, after having been confined to the house for five weeks by an attack of bronchitis. Yesterday he was able to be about the house for the first time since his illness, although several days must elapse before he can resume charge of his express business, which is now carried on by Forrest Edwards.

The ladies of Col. J. B. Mead circle, No. 1, and the ladies of the Sons of Veterans' auxiliary, No. 5, cordially invite the members of R. R. Crandall post and Maj. L. A. Abbott camp, S. of V., with their families, also the families of the Ladies' Auxiliary and the circle to a dinner to be given by the ladies in auxiliary hall, Worthen block, Tuesday, Feb. 22, Washington's birthday. Dinner will be served at 1 p. m., after which there will be a patriotic program, consisting of music, reading and speaking. Come early and have a social hour before dinner.

Under the direction of Miss Eva Smith of the faculty, who has been training the participants for the past month, the cast which is to present "The Arrival of Kitty" in the assembly hall at Spaulding high school this evening, held its final rehearsal last night. Assistants to Miss Smith, who were privileged to witness the dress rehearsal, speak in warm terms of the character of the presentation and something better than the ordinary in school dramas is promised patrons of the play to-night. The advance sale of tickets indicates that the first class play will be given in the new assembly hall will not want for a cordial reception. The following students have been assigned parts in the farce-comedy: Miss Lorraine Lorange, Miss Ruth Angel, Miss Edna Carson, Miss Bertina Hooker, Stanley Tassie, Cyril Marrior, Walter McHugh, Edmund Lorange and Winifred Smith.

Managers and clerks of the Union Dry Goods store and the Union Clothing store with a number of guests were entertained at a delightful Italian dinner and dance in the Knights of Columbus hall last evening by the proprietors of the two stores. Under the supervision of Mrs. Orreste Boffino a bountiful dinner was served at 6 o'clock, the menu appearing in attractively arranged little folders designed especially for the occasion. The hall was prettily decorated and favors of carnations were placed at each cover. Nearly every dainty known to Italian epicures was served the nine courses that made up the dinner. Afterward M. S. Levin presided happily at an informal program of speaking and music. Miss Nellie Slora rendered a piano solo and Miss Rose Levin sang. Among those who responded to brief toasts were: Manager Kenneth McRae of the dry goods store, Orreste Boffino, John McLean, Ezra L. White, Miss Yett of Montpelier, A. Moss of Boston, Mrs. O. Boffino and A. H. Fasola. A total of 51 diners later joined in an impromptu dance. Refreshments and the dinner service were in charge of Miss Nina Boffino, Miss Delena Merlo and Miss Levin.

Phillip Barney of Saskatchewan, Can., arrived in the city last evening to attend to the settlement of the estate of his father, Louis Barney, whose death occurred several weeks ago. He expects to make a few weeks' visit in the city.

In probate court to-day, the will of James Adie, late of Barre City, was proven. The will of Smilie S. Smith, late of Plainfield, was proven.

Miss Mabel Davis has returned from Plattsburg, N. Y., where she was employed for several weeks as a stenographer.

Something of a Skeptic.
An esteemed citizen was rambling along when he met a friend wearing a rather doubtful cast of countenance.

"Say, Jim," remarked the friend, "I want to ask you about Dr. Syrup. Do you really think his medicines are helpful?"

"No," was the prompt rejoinder of Jim, "not unless you closely follow his invariable directions."

"His invariable directions?" returned the other, wondering. "What are they?"

"You will find them on every bottle," smiled the merry James. "Keep the bottle tightly corked."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

MONTPELIER

John Mosetti Sentenced to House of Correction for Six Months.

John Mosetti, arrested yesterday on a warrant issued by Grand Juror A. C. Theriault on a charge of furnishing liquor, pleaded guilty when arraigned this forenoon in city court before Judge E. M. Harvey, and was sentenced to the house of correction for not less than six nor more than eight months, upon recommendation of the prosecuting officer. It was alleged that Mosetti, who has been in the employ of the water department for the past few years at different times, furnished liquor to Louis Brunelle of East Montpelier, who paid a fine for intoxication yesterday. Walter Burke asked for a jury trial after pleading not guilty to a charge of breach of the peace on Louis Gould, a local junk dealer, and a hearing will be held Monday forenoon.

William Lapan was brought into court for sentence, having pleaded guilty to a breach of the peace charge two days ago, but sentence was deferred until Monday at the request of Grand Juror Theriault.

President Albert Tuttle of the Montpelier National bank and Mrs. Tuttle returned this forenoon to their home in Fair Haven, after a few days' visit in the city.

Hon. John E. Weeks and Mrs. Weeks returned to-day to Middlebury, after a brief visit in the city. Gov. C. W. Gates left for his home in Franklin, after a brief stay in the city.

Judge E. M. Harvey returned last night from Northfield, where he presided in municipal court yesterday at the trial of a civil case, C. E. Johnson vs. American Express company. The plaintiff asked damages of $50, claiming that the defendant company was negligent in the care of livestock which was shipped from South Hero to the plaintiff in Northfield. The plaintiff contended that several calves were shipped from South Hero, but the stock was held up in Burlington and suffered from exposure and was not properly fed and cared for in transit. The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff to recover $9 and costs, at six o'clock, the trial lasting all day.

Phillip Barney of Saskatchewan, Can., arrived in the city last evening to attend to the settlement of the estate of his father, Louis Barney, whose death occurred several weeks ago. He expects to make a few weeks' visit in the city.

In probate court to-day, the will of James Adie, late of Barre City, was proven. The will of Smilie S. Smith, late of Plainfield, was proven.
